Government

ᏍᏏᏏᏏᏏ ᏍᏏᏏᏏᏏ ᏍᏏᏏᏏᏏ

(Osage governance)

With the ratification of the Osage Nation Constitution in 2006 and the newly formed three-branch government system with executive, legislative, and judicial branches. The three branches are set up to limit each other's power through a series of restraints known as checks and balances.

Laws are enacted and funds are appropriated by the Legislative Branch consisting of 12 Congressional members who elect a Speaker and the Second Speaker.

Programs and day to day business of the Nation is administered under the Executive Branch through the Principal Chief, Assistant Principal Chief, staff members and program directors.

The Judicial Branch is responsible for interpreting the Constitution and laws of the Osage Nation.

The Osage Minerals Council is recognized by the Osage Nation Constitution as an independent agency within the Osage Nation established for the sole purpose of continuing its previous duties to administer and develop the Osage Mineral Estate in accordance with the Osage Allotment Act of June 28, 1906. The Osage Minerals Council consists of eight elected council members that serve as the administrative authority for the mineral affairs of the Osage Mineral Estate with a Chairman, Second Chair, and 6 council members.

Executive Branch

MISSION STATEMENT:

Improve the lives of all Osage people in a sustainable way through cultural preservation, improved health, educational excellence, increased employment and business opportunities, and the creation of a safe and progressive environment in which to live and work.

VISION:

We will be a strong, proud, resilient, and enduring sovereign nation as demonstrated by:

- » A viable and sustainable economy driven by Osage Nation enterprises with which the income derived from is responsibly reinvested and reserved for future generations;
- » A flourishing Osage culture, a revitalized Osage language spoken at a basic level by a vast majority of Osage Nation members and a unique and vibrant Osage history taught to Osage children and fostered, promoted and memorialized throughout our homelands;
- » Conservation and responsible stewardship of natural resources balanced with sound management practices and efficient production of the mineral estate within our established territory;
- » Highly educated Osage Nation members supported and promoted by the Nation at the pre-school level continuing through the postsecondary level and beyond;
- » Physical, mental and spiritual vitality evident amongst our Osage people complemented by the ongoing development of health and wellness services;
- » A self-determining civically engaged society with ethically responsible government leaders who faithfully serve our Constitution and are accountable for their actions to Osage Nation members.

CORE VALUES:

- » Spiritual Strength
- » Pride for Our Heritage
- » Justice
- » Fairness
- » Compassion
- » Respect
- » Protection

ENDORSEMENT

ENGROSSMENT

At anytime after a bill is introduced, the rules may be suspended if at least eight members of Congress concur. Suspension is often for specific reasons, such as accelerating a bill's progress, holding it in place, moving it from General Order or Second Reading back to Committee (known as "committing the bill") or other action desired by the Congress.

*Bill becomes law 60 days after they are signed by the Principal Chief, or by the Speaker after Congressional override. An alternate effective date may be passed with a minimum of eight votes in the Congress.

Minerals Council

MISSION STATEMENT:

The Osage Minerals Council is recognized by the Osage Nation Constitution as an independent agency within the Osage Nation established for the sole purpose of continuing its previous duties to administer and develop the Osage Mineral Estate in accordance with the Osage Allotment Act of June 28, 1906.

The Osage Minerals Council consists of eight elected council members that serve as the administrative authority for the mineral affairs of the Osage Mineral Estate with a Chairman, Second Chair, and 6 council members. The Osage Nation Reservation consists of approximately 1,475,000 acres and is otherwise known as Osage County, Oklahoma. The Osage Tribe owns all mineral rights located within Osage County and has an income from all oil and gas found in Osage County.

Culture

ሓረረራ ዐኛ'ኦ ክባራገራ
(treasure Osage ways)

Osage Nation's cultural programs are determined to revitalize the Osage language and to preserve the culture and history of the Osage Nation. It is their mission to foster education for our constituents through exhibits and educational programs. Through these endeavors, they will continue to support the personal, educational, cultural, and professional needs of our people.

The icons within this legend provide a visual guide throughout this resource directory of who could potentially qualify and the service area.
